The news this week is that the "Washington crowd" is close to approve ing a federal budget which has both tax cuts and a promise of a balanced budget. This deal is supported by Republican leaders in Congress and by the Democratic White House, which should insure passage. With no idea what the final terms will be, we base our approval of the plan on two things ... 1st, we like tax cuts and balanced budgets (real ones); 2nd, a liberal Democrat in the U. S. House of Representatives is upset with the plan, which means it should be good news for conservatives.

The incident in Prattville last week where a youth baseball coach got into a fight with an umpire over a call, is frightening. The Phorid Fly lays eggs on the head of the fire ant. The eggs hatch and burrow into the fire ant head, which soon falls off. There was a murder in Enterprise Monday night. A man was killed while trying to make a night bank deposit. We know no more details, but that little bit is enough. Needless to say, we worry at such senseless acts of violence.

Doug Lawson was honored recently with a birthday party, com-memorating his 50th birthday (Lawson claims it's birthday number 29). About 50 friends, relatives and neighbors attended the Saturday afternoon event staged by Lawson's wife Ruby and their three children.

Lawson, who was paralyzed in a diving accident in 1969, was surprised when he entered the party to see the man who saved his life on that May 9th, 1969 day, five days before they were scheduled for discharge from the U. The aircraft mechanics served at Ft. Benning, Ft. Rucker, South Vietnam and then their final assignment at Ft. Eustas. Four buddies were on a long public pier, extending 500 feet out into the James River, celebrating their surviving the war and coming military discharge when Lawson dove into the river, not realizing the mile-wide river was only a few feet deep at this

God is faithful

Lamentations 3:22-33 "It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not. They are new every morning: Great is thy Faithfulness.'

God's promises to His people encompass two basic principles: God establishes the promises and obligations of His covenant, and humans are expected to accept them in obedient faith. In other words, before the promises of God can be fulfilled, we must meet the required obedience to His commands. We must commit ourselves to keep His laws and commandments. There must be a persistent obedience to the commandments of the Lord. The obedience which God expects from His people is but a sincere and earnest obedience. Inherent in the covenant of God was a reorganition that at times, because of the weakness of human nature, they would fail. But if the mother of three children. She has people would confess their sins, then they would once again be reconciled traveled over eastern and western

God is faithful to His Word. The Bible lets us know that God honors His word above His Name. The key to receiving the promises of God is to make sure that we, the expectant, are living a life of obedience to His perfect will. Psalms 84:11 states, "For the Lord God is a sun and a shield: the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will He uphold from them that walk and Barbecue uprightly."

If you are living a life of obedience to God, don't fret or worry! God is FAITHFUL! Just begin to praise Him for the things you expect to receive. Exercise your faith as in Romans 4:17b, "Call those things which be not as though they were." Constantly refresh your mind of the many times past that God fulfilled His promises to you. Know that God is the same yester-day, today and forevermore. The Lord God is not slack concerning His Kiwanis Community Building on the promises. For He Is A FAITHFUL GOD!

THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

I'm writing this week's column a few days earlier than usual to allow the family a few days out of town before school starts. If I miss something because of this, feel safe that I will catch up very quickly....

New Brockton held its annual summer basketball camp recently and taking home one of the prizes for being one of the top campers was Elba's own Tim Ware. Ware, a 6'4", freshman, has been a dominant force at the junior high level for a number of years, and this year should be ready to take that next step and start banging bodies with the big boys.

One thing for sure....the folks over in Brockton think he's ready!

The Elba Tigers are continuing to work hard in pre-season drills and the word out of Tigertown is that this year's squad will have between 35-45 players. Many of the players have been working hard all summer running and lifting weights, and that personal pride and determination will pay off as the season rolls along. Oh yea, the players report that Coach David Sikes is fair, but firm, and all the players seem to like the new Ti-

The Alabama High School Athletic Association's "All-Star Sports Week" was held last week in Montgomery, and despite smaller than expected crowds at many of the events, the first edition of the All-Star week was without a doubt a big hit for the players, coaches and others involved. The student-athletes across the state are placed at a higher level than other social studies. In the event of an avstudents, and it's great to see that they now have a chance to be honored for making the sacrifice to excel in athletics.

While on the subject of student-athletes, I believe that the State Board of Education should extend the "No Pass - No Play" policy to all students as far as extra-curricular activities are concerned. Studentathletes should have to make the grade to participate in sports; however, let's make the rest of the students also play by the rules. If a kid wants to be in a club, make him keep up his grades in all his classes. If a kid wants to be in the band or be a cheerleader, make'em meet the same academic standards that the athletes must meet. Fair is fair, and what is good for one should be good for all. Quit picking on the students that participate in

Some of my friends up at Troy State might try and hold the world's longest tailgate party this fall when the Trojans kick off at 9 PM in order to get on TV. Troy State could be on the tube as many as four times this fall on SportsSouth, and obviously will kick off whenever needed to get in on some of that additional TV revenue.

I've watched more Atlanta Braves games this summer than ever before, and can't for the life of me figure out why they won't unload one of their over-priced, over-the-hill players for a couple of decent relief pitchers. Fred McGriff and Jeff Blauser are both expendable, and since both are highly-overpaid millionaires, they could save some money and get some much needed pitching help at the same time. C'mon guys, I know you are tired of the bullpen blowing games, too!

bined to claim six top three finishes.

The Factory Stock feature was won by Mitchell Maddox, while placing second was Lee Boutwell, driving "Sport Rod's Hot Rod."

Hank Carlyon, behind the wheel The Dixie Pre-Majors World Series will swing into action this weekend in Enterprise, and all area baseball fans should plan on taking in at least some of the action. A total of twelve teams from eleven states will invade Coffee County to take part in the annual event, which will feature some of the nations top 15-16 year-old baseball players. The people over in Enterprise have been hard at work for almost a year getting ready for the Series, and would love to see the bleachers filled for all the games.

The youth football season is just around the corner, and that means that Miller Memorial Stadium is getting ready to come back to life. The Elba Department of Parks and Recreation has been working hard in recent weeks to get the field back in shape, and last week it looked like the field was looking better each and every day I rode by. I know that the Elba Tigers will never play at the field again, but the ghosts of many, many Tigers are still roaming around the old stadium and it still feels good to

The City of Elba's public swimming pool will close on August 9 for the summer, and local swimmers should be in for a real treat when they come to the pool next year, as a major renovation project is planned for the pool and deck. Funding will play a part in just what renovation is made; however, Mayor Grimes is committed to doing repairs to the thirteen-year-old pool, and maybe next summer it will look like new.

Another recreation project that has plans for getting the go-ahead is the resurfacing of the tennis courts at Hawkins-Williams Park. The courts have needed a new surface and windscreens for many years, and plans are for the project to become a reality during the coming months. Tennis has gained a lot of interest in the area over the past couple of years, and when the courts are made attractive with the new surface and other repairs, the sport could really become a favorite among those of all ages.
